

IS THIS PERSON A REAL FRIEND?

- CHECK THE BOX IF THE ANSWER IS YES -

- The person asks me to borrow money, and they do not pay me back.
- The person asks me to buy things for them.
- The person borrows things from me and does not give them back. Or, they may break or damage the things they've borrowed from me.
- I never see this person in 'real time'. They only send pictures and talk with me in text or chat.
- The person tells me that my family and other friends don't care about me.
- The person wants me to do something unsafe or against the rules at home, school, work, or other places.
- The person asks me to do things with my body that make me feel uncomfortable.
- The person doesn't want to hang out with me and other people. They only want to spend time together when it is just the two of us.
- The person doesn't call me by my name. Instead, they call me by nicknames like 'Babe', 'Honey', 'Dude', 'Sweetie', and so on.
- The person wants me to keep secrets from my family.
- The person teases me. If I tell them stop, or say that it hurts my feelings, the person tells me to stop being so serious or sensitive.
- The person embarrasses me in front of other people. They tell my secrets, or make fun of how I look, walk, or talk.
- The person does not remember my birthday or other important facts about me.
- The person makes plans with me and then doesn't keep our plans.
- The person doesn't care about my goals for myself. They don't seem to want me to get better at doing things for myself.
- I have not seen or heard from this person in a long time. The person is not someone I regularly talk to or spend time with.
- When I text or call this person, or post on their social media pages, they do not answer.
- The person has blocked me from texting, calling, or posting on their social media pages.